

CAMOUFLAGED: CARS AND CIRCUITS DISGUISED BY JONNY AMBROSE

FRIDAY 31 JULY TO FRIDAY 11 SEPTEMBER

Every line tells a story; has a significance; visually describing the subject of the artwork. Viewed as pure abstract artwork at first glance, but look a little closer, and 'if you know, you know'. Jonny Ambrose creates beautiful and fascinating works for everyone at home, not just the car lover.

'Camouflage' sees the debut of many new bold graphic artworks from the master of disguising automobile themes within detailed abstract patterns, shapes and forms, in two and three dimensions.

Ambrose has long been interested in the work of Britain's Camouflage Directorate during WWII. Over 200 artists and designers were relocated to Leamington Spa (his home for the past 25 years) to disguise Britain's buildings and ships from enemy aircraft, using the clever usage of bold patterns, colours and shapes.

His new series of artworks create visual challenges; camouflaging car design details in a maze of lines, or the path of a race circuit is portrayed as a series of circles and arcs that describe the courses' corner radii. By exploring the geometric patterns of a car or circuit, each subject creates its own unique patterns, as if a graphical DNA. Each work is human created, hand drawn by Jonny on computers and without the use of any AI.

Ambrose's artworks grab attention for their elegant beauty, yet the viewer is drawn closer to study in detail, rewarded by the visual depth of the forms, views through a work, or the playful maze of interweaving lines. He seeks to create fascination for the viewer; looking around a sculpture or uncovering the hidden relevance of every line and shape - creating alluring works of art to cherish at home.
